

ETHICAL POLICY STATEMENT

EESI Contracting makes it our responsibility to maintain a high level of ethics in combination with the responsibilities set out in our Environmental Policy Statement.

To achieve this objective, we will:

- Communicate our Ethical Policy Statement to all staff, ensuring they understand their responsibilities to uphold the ethics of EESI Contracting and the services we provide to our clients;
- Comply with applicable laws, regulations and statutory requirements;
- Act with integrity and honesty in all areas of our business;
- Respect the values and morals of others;
- Not knowingly include in our reports any statements that we know to be untrue;
- Not knowingly omit from our reports any information that would materially alter the conclusions that could be drawn from our report;
- Not endorse information supplied by the client, any other organisation or third party without taking reasonable steps to determine the validity of the information, or where this is not possible, to verify the validity of the information, note that such independent verification has not been possible, or make it clear that if any assumptions have been made based on that supplied data that the company cannot be responsible for the accuracy of that information;
- Avoid situations of resulting conflicts of interest, bribes and inducements to secure business;
- Inform our clients in writing should any member of the company become aware of an issue that results in a significant risk of harm that has not been properly report; and
- Regularly review this Ethical Policy Statement to maintain its relevance.

Tracey Bauer
Managing Director